The institutional distinction includes social outreach, field studies, and job orientation programs in respective areas of Study.

ABOUT THE FDP

A Faculty Development Program on "Research Methodology Approach" typically covers various aspects of conducting research. It equips faculty members with the necessary skills and techniques to conduct high-quality research, leading to the production of valuable academic contributions. FDPs ensure that faculty members understand and adhere to rigorous research methodologies, thereby enhancing the quality and credibility of their research outputs. It helps them stay updated with the latest trends, techniques, and tools in research methodology, enabling them to employ the most appropriate methods in their research. It will facilitate collaboration by providing a common understanding of research methodologies, among faculty members and with external researchers, fostering interdisciplinary research and partnerships. It will enable the faculty members to teach research-related courses effectively & imparting valuable knowledge and skills to students. They will be able to demonstrate proficiency in research methodology. FDPs help fulfill these requirements and maintain institutional standards. Overall, conducting an FDP on research methodology is essential for empowering faculty members to conduct impactful research, contribute to knowledge creation, and fulfill their roles as educators and scholars effectively. The proposed FDP will provide platform for professional development for teacher / teacher educators / planners/ administrator to upgrade their knowledge in research specifically its effective use in the field of education to bring quality and sustainability in education.
